› Getting Started: Vocabulary (page 117)

- 1 Read the advert. Decide if the sentences below are true or false.
Then correct the false sentences in your notebook.

See the latest trends in computer hardware and software at the EIT Trade Exhibition.

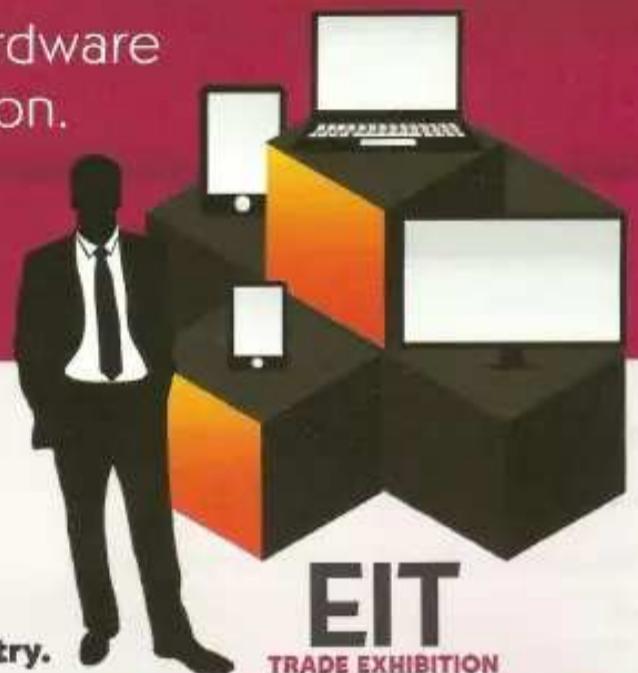

All the latest hardware products

PCs: desktops, laptops and tablets
Smartphones, smartwatches and much more.

Hundreds of software companies offering IT solutions and apps for:

banking	health
business and retail	manufacturing
education	hospitality and leisure

New this year: computer apps for the automobile industry.

25th-27th November, Olympia Convention Centre Details at: info@EIT.com

1. The trade exhibition is only for computer hardware.
2. The products exhibited include different types of computers.
3. The exhibition is only for banking and businesses.
4. There are computer products for schools, hospitals and factories.
5. You will find examples of the newest equipment at the trade exhibition.

Tip!

In technology, we sometimes use abbreviations instead of words.
PC = personal computer
IT = information technology

- 2 Three people are getting information at the trade exhibition information desk. Listen to the mini-dialogues and choose the correct answers.

1. A: Good ¹ morning / evening. Can I help you?
B: Yes, I'm looking for the Banking Plus exhibit.
A: That's exhibit number ² 218 / 28.
B: Thank you.
2. A: Excuse me. Can you tell me where exhibit 345 is?
B: Let me check. It's an exhibit of apps for the automobile industry. It's over there with the ³ blue / red sign.
A: I see it, thanks.
3. A: I'm interested in software for ⁴ education / business.
B: Just a moment ... OK, you want exhibit numbers 107, 159 and 96. Here's a map to help you.

- 3 Practise the mini-dialogues in Exercise 2 with a partner. Pay attention to the expressions in colour.

- 4 Read the mini-dialogues in Exercise 2 again. Then decide which mini-dialogue each sentence relates to.

- Speaker A wants to see several related exhibits.
- Speaker A already knows the number of the exhibit he wants to see.
- Speaker B gives Speaker A something.
- Speaker B wants to see a specific company's exhibit.
- Speaker A identifies his area of interest.

Tip!

When we say a number with three digits, we usually say two hundred and thirty one, but when we say a room or exhibit

A: Thank you.

B: You're welcome. Enjoy the ⁵ day / exhibition.

Remember: Do all activities in your notebook.

one, but when we say 2-3-1 or 231, we say two-three-one or two-thirty-one.

Hardware: The Keyboard

> Getting Started: Vocabulary (page 119)

- 1 Read the page from a computer manual. Decide if the statements below are true or false. Then correct the false sentences in your notebook.

The Keyboard Layout

The “QWERTY” keyboard is the most common type of keyboard. It gets its name from the order of the letters in the top row. Here is the basic layout:

The basic typing keys are labelled with a character (a letter, number or punctuation symbol). Pressing a key produces its character on the screen.

1. The keys on a keyboard include only symbols and numbers.
 2. There are five arrow keys which move the cursor.
 3. Modifier keys work on their own.
 4. The keyboard has got mathematical symbols.
 5. More than one set of keys can control the cursor.
- 2 An IT worker (A) is answering a call from a colleague (B). Listen to the dialogue and complete it with the missing words.
- A: Hello, this is Tim in IT.
 B: Hi, Tim. This is Sara. I'm calling from the ¹... floor. I've got a problem with my keyboard.
 A: Good morning, Sara. Is it a standard keyboard or a wireless keyboard?
 B: It's a ²... one and the delete key is stuck. I've deleted a whole page of text!
 A: Oh dear! So first, make sure you've saved all your work. OK, now unplug the keyboard from your PC. Next, turn it over and ³... it gently.

B: What? Are you sure?
A: Yes – if the keys have got dirt inside them, they sometimes get stuck.

B: OK ... now what?

A: Now plug the keyboard in again. Press the ⁴ key and see what happens.

B: Alright. Hey, it's working! Thanks.

A: Great!

B: Tim, wait a minute. Now the s key isn't working. I'm pressing the key, but the symbol doesn't appear on the monitor.

A: Alright, I'll come and take a look. We'll try ⁵ some of the keys.

B: Thanks. I'm in Room 312.

3 Practise the dialogue in Exercise 2 with a partner. Pay attention to the expressions in colour.

B: What's the best model?

A: There are good reports about the Colour Max. They're very dependable.

B: OK. Why is this white one so cheap?

A: It's just a printer. The others are more expensive because they're all-in-one printers. They've got scanners and photocopiers. Some of them have got 3.

B: We don't need a fax, but the other things would be useful. That grey Delux LI has got really good reviews. But it's much bigger than the others.

A: That's because it can print on A3 paper. Do you use A3 in the office?

B: No, never.

feature is an internal GPS monitoring system to track your children's location.

B. TEENAGERS Teenagers love taking lots of photos, especially selfies, so they will want a high-quality camera. They will probably prefer a compact, slimline phone to fit into a pocket. Of course, a long battery life is important, because teenagers spend a lot of time connected.

C. ACTIVE SPORTSPEOPLE Make sure you choose a phone that can handle the action! Get a high-resolution camera with zoom control and an internal GPS with mapping software. Look for a good protective case that has got several resistance features: water-resistant, dust-resistant and shatterproof.

D. BUSINESS PEOPLE Make sure that your model can be supported remotely by your company's IT department. The device should be able to run common office apps such as task management, note-taking and document viewing. Don't forget – your device needs a good speakerphone so that phone meetings can be effective.

- B A: Can you help me, please? Why is this smartphone cheaper than that one?
- B: This one is a budget model. That one is a top-of-the-range phone. It's got all the latest features.
- C A: That's good to know. The camera is what I use most.
- B: Also, the battery in a budget smartphone doesn't last as long as in the more expensive models. The battery life is less than eight hours. The others last more than ten.
- A: OK. Thank you for the information.
- D A: What are the main differences between them?
- B: The main advantage of budget smartphones is the lower price. They've got the same basic functions, but they haven't got as many extra features.
- A: Can you still get a good Internet connection on the cheaper ones?
- B: Yes, no problem.
- A: What about downloading films?

APPS FOR MOBILE DEVICES

Snapchat is a multimedia messaging app for smartphones. It lets you chat with your friends and share photos, videos and drawings. What makes it different from other messaging apps is that messages disappear soon after the recipient has seen them.

Google Maps helps you navigate your way around, as well as find the best places in town and the quickest routes to get to them.

WhatsApp Messenger allows you to keep in touch with friends and family. It uses your phone's Internet connection to send and receive messages, photos, videos and voice messages. Users can create groups whose members can share group chats.

Twitter allows you to express your ideas in a maximum of 140 characters. You can follow famous people, get breaking news and join conversations. You can also tweet photos and videos to your

1. Look! I've got a hundred followers!

2. According to this, it means 'meals served all day'.

3. One minute it's there, and the next, it's gone.

4. It was great seeing you and chatting after such a long time.

join conversations. You can also tweet photos and videos to your followers.

Skype allows you to talk face-to-face with your family and friends anywhere in the world for free. You can also send messages and call mobiles or landlines at very low rates even if your contacts aren't on Skype.

Google Translate helps you to read signs and menus in foreign languages. Simply take a photo of the text you don't understand, and the app will translate it into your own language. Ideal for tourists and business travellers.

5. I'll message the group to tell them to meet at the bus station.

6. It's OK. We're close. Look! The restaurant is about five minutes' walk from here.

- 2 A shop assistant (A) is helping a customer (B). Use the sentences below to complete the dialogue. Then listen to the dialogue and check your answers.

10 E-mailing

> Getting Started: Vocabulary (page 126)

1 Read the e-mail. Then decide if the sentences below are true or false. Correct the false sentences in your notebook.

Dear Staff,

Many members of staff have reported getting a lot more spam and junk e-mail in their inboxes recently. Some people have also been opening attachments that contain viruses. We are in the process of updating our e-mail program to make it more secure.

To protect our system from viruses, please follow these simple instructions:

1. Do not:
 - a. reply to an e-mail from an unknown sender. If you are not sure, please forward it to the IT department.
 - b. open an attachment unless you are certain of its origin. Again, if you are unsure, forward it to the IT department.
 - c. click on a link embedded in an e-mail unless you recognise it and it looks relevant to you.
2. Our updated e-mail program will have a filter option so that all junk or spam e-mails will go into a special folder.
3. Please run your antivirus program twice a week to check for any viruses or malware.

Thank you,
IT Department

1. In the past, members of staff got less junk e-mail than they do now.
2. The company is going to install a new e-mail program.
3. You may reply to an e-mail from a sender you don't recognise.
4. If you're not sure whether an e-mail is spam, send it to the IT department.
5. The IT department requests that the staff run an antivirus program every week.

2 An IT helpdesk technician (A) is talking to an employee (B) to check about a suspicious e-mail she received. Listen to the dialogue and choose the correct answers.

A: Hello, IT department, Ralph speaking. How can I help you?

B: Hi Ralph, this is Elizabeth from sales. I've received an e-mail from a company I don't know. I'm not sure if it's ¹ safe / spam or not.

A: Do you know the sender? Why do you think it might be spam?

B: It's from China and we do have contacts with ² companies / businesses in China. However, I'm not familiar with this one.

A: Has it got an attachment?

B: Yes. It's a Word document.

A: Have you ³ opened / checked the attachment?

B: Not yet. The e-mail says it's a list of the ⁴ products / pictures they want a price quote for. If it's a client, I need to compose a reply as soon as possible.

A: I'd better check this for you before you reply. Would you please forward the e-mail to me?

B: OK. Thank you, but can you please check it ⁵ quickly / tomorrow? If it's not junk, I need to deal with it.

Remember: Do all activities in your notebook.

Searching the Internet

> Getting Started: Vocabulary (page 126)

1 Read the tips below. Then choose the search phrases that will give you better results.

DOING AN EFFECTIVE INTERNET SEARCH

The most popular or relevant websites for your search will usually appear on the first search page in the first 20 hits.

- 1 To narrow your search results, add descriptive keywords like: timetable train Madrid Paris
- 2 Type specific words in the search box that could appear in the website. For example, don't use the term office equipment, if you mean business laser printer.
- 3 You don't need keywords like a, an, the – search engines omit them in their searches.
- 4 To find quick answers on the first search page:
 - a. For the weather in a city: Weather Sydney Australia
 - b. For the definition of a word: define antagonistic
 - c. For a currency exchange rate: 10 dollars euros
 - d. For simple calculations: 45-8= or 164/42=
- 5 Search engines will recognise certain symbols:
 - a. A plus sign (+) indicates a list of words listed together in one site: +printer +laser +inkjet
 - b. A hyphen (-) before a word excludes it from the search: +printer +laser -fax
 - c. Quotation marks (" ") around a phrase limits the search to webpages with the same words in exactly the same order: "dell laptop computer"
- 6 Use the Advanced Search tools in Settings to further narrow your search by language, date or country.

1. a. Veleta height
b. mountains height Spain
2. a. What is the price of a touch screen laptop?
b. price "touch screen" laptop
3. a. smartphone apps for weather
b. smartphone +apps +weather –iphone
4. a. sales job in a phone company
b. "sales job, phone company"
5. a. define computer network
b. What is the definition of computer network?
6. a. Mobile phone charges
b. monthly charges mobile phone

2 A worker (A) is asking a colleague (B) for help to search for train times in England. Listen to the dialogue and fill in the missing words.

- A: I'm doing research for a conference I'm going to in England. I can't find the online train timetable from Heathrow to London and then to Stratford. I'm already looking at the ¹ search result. Can you help me please, Andie?
- B: Sure, Rebecca. You usually get the best results from the first page. Maybe you need to narrow your search. What keywords have you used?
- A: I've tried: trains London Stratford. The results just give me lists of trains and city information.
- B: Ok, try this. Type the same words but put quotation marks around them. You may want to add the word ²
- A: And I want the timetable specifically for this month.
- B: Do an advanced search. Click on ³ ..., Advanced Search and then choose past month.
- A: OK, great! Got it! Now I need to know what to take. Can I find a quick weather report for London?
- B: That's easy. Type in the search box: weather London.
- A: Perfect, no rain this weekend. Now, how do I find the ⁴ for 500 euros to sterling?
- B: Just type in 500 euros: sterling and you'll get the rate of the day in the first results box.
- A: Thanks a lot, Andie. You've given me some really useful ⁵ !

colour.

- 4 Read the dialogue in Exercise 2 again. Number the tips that Andie gave Rebecca in the correct order. Then match the tips to the information that Rebecca needs.

Tips

- Do an advanced search.
- Use quotation marks.
- Type the amount of currency you want to change.
- Type weather London.

Information

Building a Network

> Getting Started: Vocabulary (page 130)

- Read the tutorial. Then read the sentences below and replace the words in bold to correct the false sentences.

OPTIONS TO BUILD A SMALL NETWORK

Small businesses with more than 15 or 20 workstations that must be connected to each other and to the Internet need to install a network.
A network requires a central hard drive and printer, a backup system, and also a secure e-mail and Internet connection. A secure network protects internal and external communications between your business and customers. It also helps your employees to stream media easily and safely, and to share documents and files.
Today's modern businesses need high-speed capabilities. You must have a secure local area network (LAN). A digital subscriber line (DSL) connection using telephone lines may be sufficient, but a fibre optic connection will give you faster and easier Internet access for landlines, wireless connections and remote access.

ETHERNET

Advantages

- Easy to set up.
- Faster than DSL or wireless connections.
- Suitable for large businesses.

Disadvantages

- Cables must run through the whole location.
- Expensive initial investment to buy network equipment and cables.

WIRELESS

- No cables.
- Laptops can connect to the Internet from different locations within the wireless range.
- Wireless must be set up carefully for maximum security and range. The further you are from the router, the slower the Mbps speed.

1. A network needs a hard drive, Ethernet and a printer.
2. A network allows customers to share files.
3. Modern businesses run faster with a DSL connection.
4. An Ethernet network is slower than a wireless one.
5. If your desk is close to the wireless router, your connection will be slower.

Tip!

Mbps: megabits per second, a measure of data transfer speed

2 An IT technician (A) is calling a network company tech support (B) for assistance. Put the dialogue in the correct order. Then Listen to the dialogue and check your answers.

- A A: Yes. I thought I'd connected the printers to the network, but the network couldn't locate the printer on the third floor. I've checked the cable and it's definitely connected.
- B B: OK. You may have to install the printer driver from the Windows installation CD or from the Internet.
- A: How do I do that?
- B B: In the Control Panel, go to View devices and printers. Click on Install the printer driver. Select the printer manufacturer and model, click on Next and then click Windows Update. Wait while Windows checks for additional drivers.
- A: And if it can't find the driver, what should I do?
- B: Click Windows Update. Usually it will download and update the drivers automatically.

Your Turn

Listen to the conversation between a supervisor and an IT person. Then decide if the sentences are true, false or doesn't say.

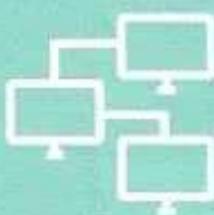

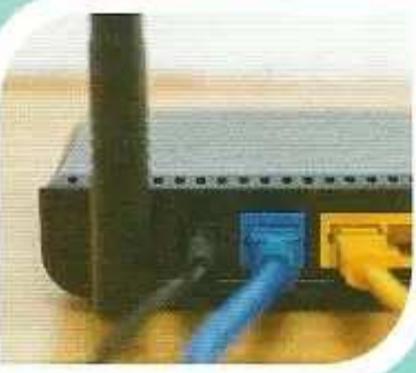

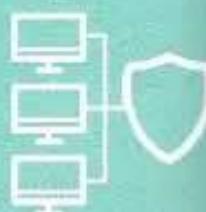

- The IT technician is going to set up a local area network.
- The client needs to buy an Ethernet system.
- The supervisor recommends good quality equipment.
- The new business has already got an Internet service provider.
- The IT technician has already given the topology diagram to the client.
- The IT technician will install a printer.

Network Equipment

1 Read the equipment requirements. Then choose the correct answer below.

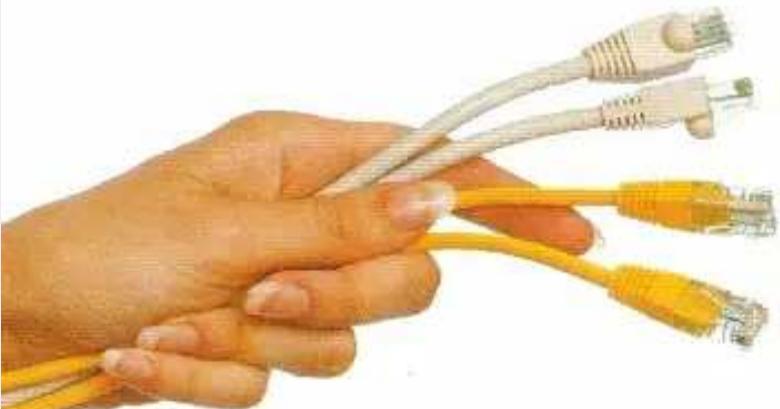

What do you need to build a business network?

Various factors will dictate which equipment you need when building a new network. A topology displays in detail what is required for sharing resources, accessing data, going online and communicating successfully. It is best to purchase business grade equipment for reliable communications between all aspects of the network.

1. Cables connect computers, network devices and peripherals to each other.
2. Switches (or Hubs) are hardware devices that filter and forward packets of data through the network.
3. Adaptors are physical devices that allow one piece of hardware to be connected to another.
4. Routers manage traffic across network devices and provide Internet via the Transmission Control Protocol (TCP) or Internet Protocol (IP). They can also link multiple networks across distances using a wide area network (WAN).
5. Firewalls are a security system to protect against any unauthorised users trying to access your network. A firewall uses previously determined security rules to monitor incoming and outgoing traffic.
6. A wireless access point (WAP) or a wireless router allows employees and visitors to connect to the same network without the use of cables.

1. To help you plan a new network,
 - a. go online.
 - b. use a topology diagram.
2. When building a new business network, you need to
 - a. share your resources.
 - b. buy business grade equipment.
3. Both a hub and a switch
 - a. move pieces of data across the network.
 - b. save pieces of data from the network.
4. Networks far apart from each other
 - a. can be linked by a router.
 - b. can be linked by an adaptor.
5. Network access via a firewall is
 - a. limited.
 - b. extended.
6. A WAP
 - a. requires cables.
 - b. doesn't require cables.

2 Match A to B to create a dialogue between two IT technicians. Then listen to the dialogue and check your answers.

A

1. Whose network are we setting up today?
2. Have you already drawn up the topology diagram for the job?
3. I think a local area network should be fine for this company.
4. OK, and did you configure the computers especially for them?
5. I see they need 20 workstations, adaptors, switches and routers. How many metres of cable will we need?
6. What time will you be ready to leave?

- a. No, it won't be, because their offices are 10 kilometres from the factory. We need to install a wireless access point.
- b. Yes I did, and I've spoken to them about the need for a firewall.
- c. Give me another half an hour to check that I've got all the equipment.
- d. We're going to the Welfast Clothing Company in the industrial area.
- e. I think about 200 metres, but I'll take more, just in case.
- f. Yes, I have. Here's the list of devices and peripherals we need to supply.

Operating Systems

> Getting Started: Vocabulary (page 131)

1 Read the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) page. Then complete the sentences below.

What is an operating system?

An operating system is software that allows the user to communicate easily with the computer's systems without programming language code. The graphical user interface (GUI) does this job with a combination of graphics and text.

The operating system also makes sure that the hardware and software applications work together and can simultaneously multi-task many programs. For each program, the operating system coordinates the computer's central processing unit, drivers, memory and storage.

What are the most popular operating systems?

Today, the most popular operating systems for personal computers are the open source system Linux, or proprietary systems such as Microsoft Windows and Mac OS.

An open source operating system is freely available from the Internet to download and install. Proprietary software is commercially owned. It is licensed to businesses or individual computer users for a fee. The programming cannot be modified or changed in any way.

- With an operating system, users don't need to enter
- The operating system uses to show things visually.
- An operating system enables many to work at the same time.
- Open source operating systems are available on the
- Proprietary software be changed.

2 A computer technician (B) is discussing operating systems with a client (A). Listen to the dialogue and fill in the missing words.

- A: I can't decide between Windows and Linux. Which operating system do you think is more suitable for this business?
- B: Well Sam, Linux is a free open source system. Windows is ¹ and owned by Microsoft, so it costs money.
- A: This business hasn't got a large budget. Exactly how much does the Windows system cost?
- B: Newer Windows systems can cost up to ² to start with. Then it's more expensive to upgrade, or if you want to add more users.
- A: That's a lot. Is it true that there can be security and stability issues with both systems?
- B: Linux is considered stable. It's easier to fix problems. A community of developers from around the world can quickly respond to any issues you have.
- A: But, I've heard it's more complicated to install.
- B: A bit. Linux ³ sets of bundled software to run it. But that also means you can modify it to your specific needs.

A: But most users are already ⁴ ... with Windows, aren't they?

B: Indeed. I think everyone knows the Windows interface.

A: Thanks for your advice. I think I'll choose Windows as it's got a simpler interface. It may cost more, but it will be easier to find ⁵ ... to support the business as its needs grow.

INSTALLING THE LINUX DISTRIBUTION OPERATING SYSTEM

Preparing your computer:

- 1. Check your computer for the minimum recommended requirements.

Minimum computer requirements:

- 700 MHz processor
- RAM of 512 MB or more
- 5 GB of hard-drive space
- 1024 x 768 screen resolution
- Either a CD / DVD drive or USB port

- 2. Back up your data files.

- 3. If you've already got Windows on your computer, you will usually only have one large drive: the C drive. You should do a disc-partition to set up a second drive in order to install Linux separately. You may already have some programs that will only run on Windows.
- 4. There is no single version of Linux. Most distributors take the Linux kernel and combine it with additional bundled software such as a graphics interface, a desktop environment and a web browser.
- 5. You can check if the hardware on the computer is compatible with the Linux system by downloading Linux ISO to a USB flash drive. Then reboot your computer from the USB drive and try to run Linux from it.

1. A 400 MHz processor is big enough to install Linux.
2. Your data is safe when you install a new system.
3. You can install Linux and Windows in the same disc drive.
4. Several versions of Linux are available to install.
5. You have to restart your computer to see if Linux is compatible with it.

- 2 A support technician (A) is helping a caller (B) to install the Linux operating system. Match the technician's questions in A to the caller's responses in B. Then listen to the dialogue and check your answers.

1. Have you ever installed an operating system before?
2. Did you download it to a DVD or USB?
3. Don't forget to back up your Windows system and also your data files. How much free space have you got? You need at least 5 GB.

- Did you download the 32-bit or the 64-bit version? The program you install must be the same version as your computer.
- The next step is to restart the computer. Press the F10 key so you can reboot from the USB.

- I've checked. It's a 32-bit computer, so I've got the right version.
- No, I haven't, so please can we check it step-by-step?
- To my USB – I've already partitioned my existing hard drive.

Online Safety

How to Stay Safe Online

BLOGS ADVICE CONTACT

With more and more people completing transactions online, digital safety has become an important factor. Today, more than ever, you must take precautions to ensure your personal information is safe from hackers and thieves.

1 PASSWORD PROTECTION:

- Never share your passwords with anyone or include them in e-mails.
- Password protect all sensitive files on your computer.
- Use a sentence that is at least 12 characters long to create a strong password.

2 SOCIAL MEDIA:

- Protect against identity theft. Don't make your personal information public.
- Adjust your privacy settings to limit who can see your profile. If you don't want to risk everyone seeing your photos, don't post them online at all.
- Don't make your holiday plans and live photos public. Thieves will know when your house is empty.

3 E-MAIL:

- DON'T open, click on a link or reply to an e-mail if you don't know who sent it to you.
- Use filters to block unwanted e-mails such as:
 - i. Phishing – fake or fraudulent e-mails to trick users into sharing their personal information like credit card details, user names and passwords.
 - ii. Bulk e-mails – e-mails sent to millions of people. They may contain links or downloads with viruses or spyware which can corrupt your computer.

4 SAFETY FOR CHILDREN:

- Use parental control options to block undesirable websites, videos and content.
- Monitor your children's use of social media and browsing.
- Instruct young children and teens about online safety. Teach them not to 'make friends' with everyone. People may hide behind a false identity.

Tips:

1. Don't give your passwords to other people.
2. Use a different password for each account.
3. Use privacy control. Only let certain people view your personal details.
4. Report spam to your e-mail client.
5. Use filters to reduce spam.
6. Check your children's use of the Internet and social media.

2 Two colleagues are discussing Internet security. Choose the correct answer. Then listen to the dialogue and check your answers.

- A: Hi, Katie. My daughter was surfing the web last night and I noticed some undesirable content that I didn't want her to see. I need to block certain ¹ e-mails / websites. Do you know how I can do this?
- B: It's easy, Wendy. You can set up your PC to monitor what your children are viewing. It will also keep them away from certain games and sites. You can even set limits on how much time they spend online.
- A: You mean I can actually ² limit / decide what sites the browser finds?
- B: Sure. Almost all browsers and social media websites have Parental Controls or Privacy Settings.
- A: Where do I find the Parental Controls on Google? How do I ³ set / do them?
- B: In your browser, go to Search Settings on the right-hand side of the screen. Under "SafeSearch filters", check the box next to "Turn on SafeSearch". Then at the bottom of the page, click "Save".
- A: How does this help?
- B: When someone does a search in their browser, this filters the search results and eliminates undesirable videos and websites.
- A: Is it completely ⁴ safe / sure?
- B: It's not 100% accurate. However, it helps protect children from most of the ⁵ relevant / inappropriate search results.

To: IT Managers
From: Sam Brown: Network Administrator
Subject: Company Cyber Security Meeting

Following last week's cyber attack attempts, we all need to reassess security to protect our business. Please read the agenda points below before our meeting. It is essential that ALL managers attend.

- Establish better network security: Buy new antivirus software with 'real-time' protection to make sure we are better protected against viruses, spyware and other malicious codes. Check which new vendors regularly provide patches and updates to their software.
- Secure our network: Check the firewall and encrypting information. Make sure the WiFi is secure and hidden. To safeguard from unauthorised access, implement password protection on the router.
- Establish stronger security policy for all employees: Consider implementing multi-factor authentication for employees to gain entry to sensitive data. Administrative privileges should be limited to IT managers only. Make sure all employees are aware of the penalties if they violate the business' cyber security rules.
- Research new backup system: Install a more innovative program to perform daily backup which also includes an effective recovery solution. An alternative backup for storing copies off-site or on the cloud is also essential.
- Redesign policy on payments: Check our authentication system with the bank and credit card companies before we open our e-commerce site. It is imperative we use the most trusted validation tools and anti-fraud services.

Tip!

Multi-factor authentication combines two or more independent credentials: something the user knows, such as a password or a secret question; something the user has got, such as a bank card; and biometric verification.

- Sam Brown is insisting that
 - IT managers participate in the meeting
 - all employees read the agenda
- Sam Brown believes that the company needs to
 - update its antivirus software
 - replace its antivirus software
- The company has got cyber security rules
 - which allow employees to see all data
 - which employees mustn't violate
- The company would like a backup program which
 - provides a way to recover data
 - stores data on the cloud
- The company is planning to
 - sell products online
 - redesign their products

- A B: Yes. How else can we make sure our network is completely secure?
 A: You should consider installing a VPN – a virtual private network. It offers a much better level of security.
 B: How does that work?
 A: It works as a private network, even though you are using a public network.

- B A: Hi, Mathew. What seems to be the problem?
 B: Well Jack, last month we had a serious security breach even though we had installed new anti-virus software.
 A: When did you last download an update?
 B: Oh! I'm not sure.
 A: You need to check for software updates at least once a month.

- C B: OK, I'll get the IT staff to check that.
 A: Is there anything else that you're concerned about?
 B: Yes, some employees have complained that sometimes they can't access all the programs they need.
 A: It sounds like we need to reassess the firewall settings. I'll adjust the settings for you. Have you got any other questions?

line with the exact quantities. As you can see, 12 of the monitors are obsolete so I haven't included them in the final total.

We're overstocked with microphones so we don't need to order any of these. We've run out of webcams for the helpdesk technicians. Please order another box of 20 of the IBIS model. At the moment, we are upgrading the graphics department and we haven't got enough stylus pens. So please order ten of the ProFine XS300 model. As usual, we are running low on black ink for the HD inkjet500 printers. You need to reorder a box of 30 urgently.

Would you please let me know when these items are delivered?

Many thanks,

Daniella Ellis

Dear Mr Walters,

Following our discussion, here is the brief for the new database for our marketing department. This database must be able to record information regarding product types, quotes to customers and sales figures. We should be able to access this information quickly and easily. In addition, it must allow us to cross-reference customers and products. When we talked on the phone, I forgot to ask you to include a function that allows us to get a customer profile based on all previous enquiries, quotes, sales and complaints. After you create the schema, we will study the database and give you feedback.

I hope the above is clear. If you have any further questions, please call me.

To: alittlej@emr.net
From: clivebar@itsol.com
Subject: Specifications for Network

Dear Anne,

As discussed, here are my specifications for setting up our network. We have to use a wireless network because we would like to avoid the cost of installing cables in our offices. The network will serve 30-40 workstations and 10 printers and they are all within a 30-metre range of the router. It is essential that we have a reliable security system. Can you please send me a topology diagram, a list of the equipment needed and the cost?

The memo discusses new antivirus software installation and company cyber security policies regarding sensitive data access, social media use, and password sharing.

To: All Members of Staff
From: Ed Robinson, IT dept
Subject: Company Cyber Security Policy

Dear All,

As you may know, we have recently installed new, updated antivirus software with "real-time" protection in all our computers. This seems like a good time to remind you all of our security policy. Our company handles a lot of sensitive data. You cannot access this data unless you have got administrative privileges. If you need particular data and cannot access it, ask your manager for help. In addition, you must not use social media networks or conduct personal e-mail correspondence on work computers. Finally, you must not give your personal password to any of your colleagues. If you have any further questions, please contact me.
